MACON DOCTOR PLEADS TO HIS WIFE FOR HELP

Has Only His Clothes Left, He Says, Begging for Reconciliation.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
MACON, Ga., Sept. 2.—Dr. A. B. Hinkle is endeavoring to effect a reconciliation with his wife, who has left his home and has announced that she will bring divorce proceedings. Dr. Hinkle declared that all of his possessions, valued at over $300,000, including property worth half that much, are in his wife's name, and that all he has in the world is a suit of clothes. His splendid office equipment even has been added to Mrs. Hinkle.
"I am practically a pauper, unless

The fight between father and son began when the doctor disapproved the boy's choice of a wife. He wanted to urge Mrs. Hinkle to sue for divorce. The Hinkle's family affair has excited great interest, as they are exceptionally well known, and friends on both sides are having much to say.

Dr. Hinkle has given his wife two letters pleading with her to forgive him

CAMINETTI SHIFTS ALL BLAME TO DIGGS

Will Not Accuse Girl as Diggs
Did, but Will Assert That He Was Only a Tool

(By Associated Press.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.—The defense began today its task of attempting to clear F. Drew Ciminetta of the charge of having transported Lola Norris from Sacramento, Cal., to Reno, Nev., for immoral purposes. It sought to lay all responsibility for the fatal excursion on the shoulders of Maury I. Diggs, who has been characterized as the leader of the party and who has been convicted of having violated the Mann white slave traffic act in taking Marion Davis to Reno.

When Diggs was on trial it was on the slight figure of the Warrington girl that his attorneys tried to place the burden. Ciminetta, however, announced present a similar course with Miss Norris, but he would make no effort to controvert her story of their relations.

Throughout Miss Norris' ordeal on the witness stand, Dr. Drew gave no hint of resentment toward the man whom she said had accomplished the deed. He merely said that he had taken care for him, but her testimony indicated no desire for any reprisal. She even admitted that he had made this statement to a friend:

"I don't see how any testimony could give could hurt Drew, for he never did anything I asked him not to do, and I don't care what he says."

But previously she had made what was the prosecution regarded as a strong admission in the support of her husband:

"Mr. Camminitz said that all Dr. Drew had to do was to say four or five words and we have to go."

The defense yesterday tried to emphasize the leadership in the escapade to make it appear that Camminitz was merely a panderer to his wife's whims and discussions that led up to the trip.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—The Earl of Carrick is the latest recruit from the ranks of the nobility to the music hall stage. It was announced today that his appearance had been arranged for an early date.

The Earl of Carrick is considered one of the clearest American actors in architectural history. He is nearly forty years of age. He has the title which he received last year.

ATLANTA MAN ONLY THREE TERM HEAD OF ENGINEERS

It is not a generally known fact, but it is nevertheless true, that an Atlanta engineer enjoys the distinction of having been the only man to serve three terms as president of the Georgia Society of Professional Engineers. This year's term was held at the city of New York.

This individual is W. R. (Cap) Joyner, who, however, did not leave his post as chief of the Atlanta Fire Department until he had served his third term, and who is at present state fire marshal. He was elected first president of the big association in 1937. His term was again renewed in 1938 and 1939. He was chosen to succeed himself in 1940.

BEAVERS' FOES LONG WAY FROM HIS SCALP

Involving the Chief Cuts Little Figure in New Charter Election

The "Beavers issue" has affected the new charter one way or the other, but it is not yet a sufficient cause to prevent the people from voting in a special election September 24. If the people approve the charter, it will go into effect on January 1.

The charter provides, in place of the present board of public safety, a board of public safety, police and fire department. The new charter abolishes the police board. That it abolishes the police board, practically every member of the present police board, if the new charter goes into effect, will be a candidate for election to the board of public safety, and a majority of them will be elected, unless the political complexion of council is so badly changed by the results of the primary. There is no anti-beaver issue in the election, and the anti-beaver forces to assist the chief, they must accomplish their ends.

First, they must get the charter adopted. Second, they must elect an anti-beaver ticket to council in the city election, which comes on September 25. This anti-beaver board of public safety will still their fight wouldn't be won, because under the civil service (which the new charter retains in its present form) they would have to find some one to whom to elect the chief.

It would be no cinch. The crowd who are supporting the charter are the crowd who will support the anti-beaver ticket. There is no anti-beaver issue in the election, and the anti-beaver forces to assist the chief, they must accomplish their ends.

UNCONSCIOUS ELEVEN DAYS, BOY STILL LIVES

Life of Charlie McAfee, Whose Skull Was Fractured August 24, Yet in Balance

Although he has been unconscious for three days with a fractured skull, the life of Charlie McAfee, fourteen-year-old son of Mrs. L. McAfee, of 1000 Peachtree street, is not in danger. The boy was injured by a fall from a tree on August 24, and is now in the hospital.

The unconscious boy is in bed, his head is in a cast, and his eyes are closed. He is in the hospital, and his condition is not serious. The doctors are confident that he will recover.

ROTARY DELEGATES

TELL OF CLUB WORK

"Not a Business Swapping Organization, but a Parliament of Business"

The full meaning of Rotary club work, and the part the Atlanta Rotary club is expected to play in advancing the best interests of this community were explained in detail at a meeting at the Piedmont Tuesday afternoon. Ivan E. Allen and Albert S. Adams, delegates to the fourth national convention of Rotary clubs, were back from Buffalo filled with enthusiasm over the ideas they had gathered there.

Since the recent organization of a Rotary club in Atlanta, the wrong impression has been growing up in some quarters as to the purpose of this club. It is not a business swapping organization, but a business swapping organization. The representative of any particular line of business who is a member of the Rotary club holds his membership to boost his private interests or his individual business, but to represent and serve the interests of all Americans in his trade or professional calling.

The Whole Store Will Be There This Afternoon, From President to Office Boy, Yelling to Beat Mobile

Daniel Brothers' clothing store on Peachtree street won't be open Wednesday afternoon. They're going to hang a sign on the door, "Open to the Game." Atlanta has to win the attendance honors from Birmingham. So the Daniel Brothers' company is going to do its share toward Atlanta's triumph and Birmingham's downfall.

One vote probably never elected a president and one store probably never, single-handed, broke a baseball attendance record. But Daniel Brothers are going to do all they can toward it, and they are setting an example and establishing a precedent which, if followed, will make the Maple City fans the sick-at-give-in the whole south.

"If baseball interferes with your business, give up the business," is the motto which the managers of the Peachtree street store adopted in enthusiastic conference Wednesday morning.

Pinned Beneath Car; Fires Pistol for Aid

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) COLUMBUS, Ga., Sept. 3.—Clyde Palmer came near being killed under an automobile late yesterday, when the big machine skidded, running into a ditch and pinning him beneath the steering wheel, where he was forced to remain some time, when he finally succeeded in getting his hand on a pistol in the car, firing it off in efforts to attract aid, which soon came. Had it not been for the pistol, it is believed that the young man would have been killed, as he was almost exhausted when taken from underneath the car.

GEORGIA CHAMBER WILL HAVE MEETING IN MACON

President Will Be Elected and Plans for Furthering Campaign Discussed

To perfect further the organization of the Georgia chamber of commerce and elect a president, following the formal meeting of the movement here some Tuesday, September 16, at which the commercial, manufacturing and agricultural interest of the entire state will be represented.

C. J. Haden, of Atlanta, is chairman of the executive committee which has charge of the details of the proposed gathering. The other members are P. M. Atkinson, Madison; R. D. C. Newman, J. S. Davis, Albany; G. D. Deen, Waycross; J. A. McCord, Atlanta; W. H. Hays, Hiram; Charles A. Wickham, College Park; Charles D. McKinney, Decatur; J. S. H. Hays, Hiram.

BURF ALMS OF CHAMBER. Seven of the specific aims of the state-wide chamber are as follows: (1) To organize and coordinate the various chambers of commerce and counties of the state (at present numbering about 80) by studying the best and most up-to-date methods for promoting and presenting the interests of this study to each local organization of commerce in the Georgia chamber of commerce.

(2) To bring about more effective cooperation between the various commercial organizations of the state in the general upbuilding of the whole state, especially along such lines as better roads, better sanitary conditions, and better educational facilities.

(3) To bring the farmers and business men closer together in a study of better methods of agriculture and better understanding of each other and a more general recognition of mutual interests.

(4) To foster all movements of the state which tend to bring about better industrial, agricultural, and commercial conditions and the general betterment of the state.

(5) The continuous and persistent advancement of the resources of the state of Georgia to the people of other states of the union.

(6) A careful and accurate study of conditions of the state, such matters as education, sanitation, roads, manufacturing and the constant presentation of the results of this study to the daily and weekly press of the state.

(7) A thorough investigation by the executive committee as to whether or not there are in existence approximately semi-state, national and sectional commercial organizations founded on the same general purposes as the Georgia chamber of commerce, whose activities are confined entirely to particular states or sections of the state.

(8) To determine whether or not there are in existence approximately semi-state, national and sectional commercial organizations founded on the same general purposes as the Georgia chamber of commerce, whose activities are confined entirely to particular states or sections of the state.

Atlanta Opens Wednesday Night With "Mary's Lamb"

First Show of Season for Atlanta's Leading Theater Is Richard Carle's Famous Musical Comedy, With McGrath in Leading Role, Supported by Bertha Yeoman

Wednesday night the Atlanta will begin its season with a fine musical comedy entitled "Mary's Lamb." This comedy was formerly played by Richard Carle, who wrote it, and is one of the most humorous and entertaining produced in recent years.

McGrath is playing the Carle role this season and is surrounded by a capable company of which Bertha Yeoman is prima donna. The comedy is coming to Atlanta with the commendation of other cities en route south.

Critics in many places have been profuse in praise of the excellence of the play is most pleasing. The chorus is a big feature, with the elaborate bits of work being the models shown in every other act. The play will be here Thursday night and night.

LOSE FURNITURE SOLD FOR DISORDERLY HOUSE
Judge W. D. Ellis Renders Interesting Decision Regarding Sale for 'House'

Judge W. D. Ellis rendered an interesting decision Wednesday when he directed the jury to return a verdict denying the right of the Abbott Furniture company to possession of furniture which was sold for the furnishing of one of the Manhattan avenue houses.

The case came into the court because Mrs. L. Purcell, alias Percy Lyons, tried to sue the furniture company which was not paid for in full, to St. Louis when the house was closed some time ago.

The furniture company directed a suit against the Seaboard Air Line to obtain possession of the furniture which had been given to the railroad for shipment.

In order to determine if standing the railroad paid an inter plea, and it was up to the court to decide whether the house or the furniture company should have the furniture.

As it was shown that the furniture of which there was a great deal, was bought in St. Louis and was not paid for in full, Judge Ellis said that neither the furniture company nor the woman was entitled to the furniture, and left it in the hands of the railroad.

Two Scotch Lassies and Their Brother Seeking Work Here

Two bright-eyed, rosy-cheeked Scotch lassies, and their brother, a smart lad, are in Atlanta on their own resources, and are looking for jobs where they can earn an honest living.

They are Mary Logan, aged twenty-one, Margaret Logan, aged eighteen, and David Logan, aged sixteen. They hail from Glasgow.

The girls went posturing as housemaids. They are intelligent and industrious, and believe in keeping a place spotlessly clean. As for David, he'll take most any sort of a job he can get, and will work as hard as any boy in the city.

The Logan family came to Atlanta from Fair Oak, Ala., near Mobile, where they went ten months ago, having been brought over from Glasgow by their uncle, W. M. Tremblay.

The girls got work as housemaids and were getting along all right, but the boy was not getting on so well. He was in a position to help himself, and his sisters could support him. So they decided, with their uncle's consent, to come to Atlanta.

Cotton mill work was denied them, because they knew nothing of it. And they could not find work as housemaids. The girls got work as housemaids and were getting along all right, but the boy was not getting on so well.

Any one in a position to help the young Scotch, or either of them, with their uncle's consent, to come to Atlanta, or Mr. Crutchfield or Mrs. Payne.

ST. ANDREW'S ORDER IN 1914 CONVENTION HERE
National Brotherhood of Episcopal Laymen Meet in Atlanta Year From October

The national convention of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, a national organization of laymen in the Episcopal church, will be held in Atlanta in 1914.

The convention here will be in October and will bring about 2,000 delegates from all sections of the United States.

The officers of the executive committee, which was largely responsible in securing the convention for Atlanta, are Dr. C. M. Barrow, president; P. G. Hamman, vice president; W. H. Hamman, secretary; H. E. Watts, treasurer.

Taft is President Again, But Not of The United States

(By Associated Press.)
MONTREAL, Quebec, Sept. 3.—Ex-President William H. Taft was elected president of the American bar association this afternoon at the close of the annual meeting.

As Luther Rosser is county attorney, the members of the board expressed the opinion that he is disqualified to pass upon the matter, but Commissioner Anderson said that as a matter of courtesy it ought to be referred to him, and that he would return with the statement that he is disqualified.

NEGRO AUTOISTS WILL RACE NEXT FRIDAY

Races Will Start Promptly at 2:30 o'Clock—100-Mile Race Scheduled

The negro auto races will be held at the Speedway Friday afternoon, starting at 2:30 o'clock. They were not run Tuesday on account of interference by the Hapeville authorities and everything is complete for the big motor Friday afternoon.

The races Labor day were a regular part of fun. The negro drivers around Atlanta let their machines out for the limit. One mechanic was pushed out of a car for shutting down one driver's engine.

There is going to be a hundred-mile race Friday and something big is expected.

MOTION PICTURE FILMS MUST NOW BE CENSORED

Drastic Ordinance Passed by Council—Name of McDaniel
Street Not Changed

General Council Tuesday afternoon passed an ordinance requiring a censorship of motion picture films by the council library trustees before the same are shown to the public. Some council members doubted if it would be possible for the trustees to censor such vast quantities of films every day, but inasmuch as the ordinance was drawn by the trustees themselves, and sent to council with a request for passage, they decided they would let the trustees take a try at the task.

The ordinance also prohibits the wearing of "indecent, indecent or suggestive costumes" by women on the stages of motion picture theaters.

Council decided that McDaniel street should not be changed to Oakfield place, notwithstanding a majority report from the street committee recommending the change.

It developed in the course of the discussion that the owners of 7,000 feet of frontage on the street oppose the change, while only 2,000 feet are in favor of the change.

Miss Annie Wells, a well known Atlanta lady who owns McDaniel street frontage, was vigorously opposed to the change and did a deal of missionary work among council members. She was present in council chamber when the vote was taken and applauded the result.

Charles H. Kelley, elected an alderman from the Second ward to fill the unexpired term of John E. McDaniel, was elected by Mayor Woodward. Mr. Kelley served as alderman from the Second ward previous to Alderman McDaniel, and is, therefore, no stranger to his duties. He was warmly welcomed by the members of council.

An invitation was extended to the members of council, and unanimously accepted, to witness a test of the new automobile fire engine at the Tenth ward station in Oakland City next Saturday afternoon.

Aldermen Ragsdale and Woodward Mason, commanding the Tenth ward delegation in council, promise some interesting hospitality.

W. W. TINDALL NAMED JUVENILE COURT JUDGE

Well-Known Lawyer Will Have Jurisdiction Over All Children's Offenses

W. W. Tindall, who for the last two years has been chief probation officer of the juvenile court, and who is also a lawyer, Wednesday was appointed to the office of judge of the juvenile court, the appointment was made by the judges of the superior court under an act passed by the recent general assembly. Previous to this the office has been filled by the judges of the superior court in rotation, a session of the juvenile court being held only on Saturdays.

The children's court has become effective in Atlanta in April, 1911. Since that time the matters coming before the court have increased that it became a tax on the superior court judges to supervise the juvenile court and it was found that a court should be established with exclusive jurisdiction over the juvenile and delinquent children with a separate court room.

At present the children's court will be held at the detention home at 161 Central avenue. But soon the three-story brick building at 94 Trinity avenue, which is ready for permanent occupation, the court having leased it. Repairs are now in progress.

When the new building is occupied there will have one of the most up-to-date juvenile courts in the south.

Clanny Scotts Meet "Braw and Early" On September 5th

The Atlanta Scottish association will hold its regular monthly clan meeting of the "Klax Began" at such a clock of the night of September 5th. The meeting is open to all members of the clan and to the public. The meeting is held at the home of Robert Burns, who for two years or more, to anyone else it is not as can be deciphered in a couple of words, however, by referring to a glossary of the Scottish clan names.

"The Guide who read the poem of the Pinhead at Mr. Spurr's make ye all the best of the Pinhead in the night on ye will sure be on hand," is the quotation in the notice. It continues:

"That your best bit and tucker out of the Klax and be at our meeting home and early."

The director also advises: "Bring along some of your own or ye'll be on hand. The notice should have their names on the list. From this it is evident that the association is increasing its membership.

NO QUARANTINE UNTIL WEEVIL HAS APPEARED

Georgia Board of Entomology Thinks Cotton Pest Will Come Soon

Not until the cotton boll weevil makes its appearance in Georgia will quarantine be established in the state. The quarantine and the cotton growing states will be enforced rigidly. This was decided at the meeting of the board of entomology Tuesday afternoon.

The State Entomologist, E. Lee Douthett, has anticipated that the weevil will reach Georgia during the present year, but he said it may not be until next winter. When the weevil does appear, a strict quarantine will be ordered against those states from which it is known to come.

The state board of entomology has a plan of prohibiting the shipment of cotton seed into Georgia from those states unless the entomologist of that state certifies that the seed is free from the weevil.

GIFTED ATLANTA GIRL RETURNS HOME AFTER SUCCESSFUL CAREER IN NEW YORK

Takes Charge of the Oakland City Branch Library and Brings Delight to Hearts of Atlanta Girls and Boys With the Stories She Tells Them

Miss Mary Brown, who until recently has been one of the most valued members of the New York public library staff, is one of the constantly increasing number of Atlanta girls who have made a signal success in their chosen profession. Miss Brown has returned home to take up library work in Atlanta, her departure causing a most genuine regret in the New York library, where for four years she has had charge of the library work for children in the east and west sides.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Brown, of Tenth street. The children of the slums in New York she is known as the "little library lady" or "the lady who tells us such good stories" and she has already endeared herself to more children of a higher class with whom she has started library work in Atlanta.

She graduated from the Atlanta library training school in 1908 and shortly thereafter went to New York. It was not long before her untiring efforts at getting along with children made itself manifest, and through constant struggle with refractory words she has come to have a good knowledge of the languages although she modestly denies acquaintance with foreign words.

The Atlanta library has tried a number of times to secure her services, but she has refused to give her time. This year, however, Miss Brown's special interest in the Atlanta library has been so great that she has at home (she won't tell it, but there have been a number of interesting

GEORGIA NORMAL SCHOOL TURNS AWAY APPLICANTS

Lack of Room Forces State Institution to Close Doors to Any More Students

Owing to lack of room, the Georgia Normal and Industrial school at Milledgeville has been forced to turn away more than half the applicants this year. The doors of the college are now closed to students for this reason, much to the regret of the management.

In explanatory letters to prospective students who were turned away, M. M. Parks, president of the school, stated that such action was necessary because the state has not been able to erect

The funeral of Miss Mary P. Dickinson, who died Monday, will be held from the Church of the Immaculate Conception at 3:30 Wednesday afternoon. The body will be sent to New Orleans at 5:30 o'clock for interment.

MR. H. PERRY ELDER.
Mr. H. Perry Elder died at a private sanatorium Tuesday night at 8 o'clock and the body was removed to Burdett & Simons Co.'s chapel. He is survived by his sister, Miss Louise Elder, and by an uncle, Dr. William Whitehead of Atlanta. The funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Rev. McMahon Called
(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
FATONTON, Ga., Sept. 2.—Rev. A. M. McMahon of Griffin, has been called to the First Baptist church here, which has been without a pastor for a number of months. Mr. McMahon preached his first sermon on Sunday morning to a large congregation.

Mr. McMahon is a recent graduate of Louisville seminary.

At the first story hour at the Oakland City library over fifty children heard her tell stories, and her soft, well-modulated, musical voice and the delightful stories that she told caught their fancy at once. She has become a fast friend with the girls, and has boys who didn't want to go in that place because nobody but girls was there.

Following the plan pursued in New York, Miss Brown will make the branch libraries club centers. She will form boys' clubs and girls' clubs, and they will be allowed to meet in the library. She hopes also to secure the co-operation of the department and make the libraries really helpful adjuncts to the school work.

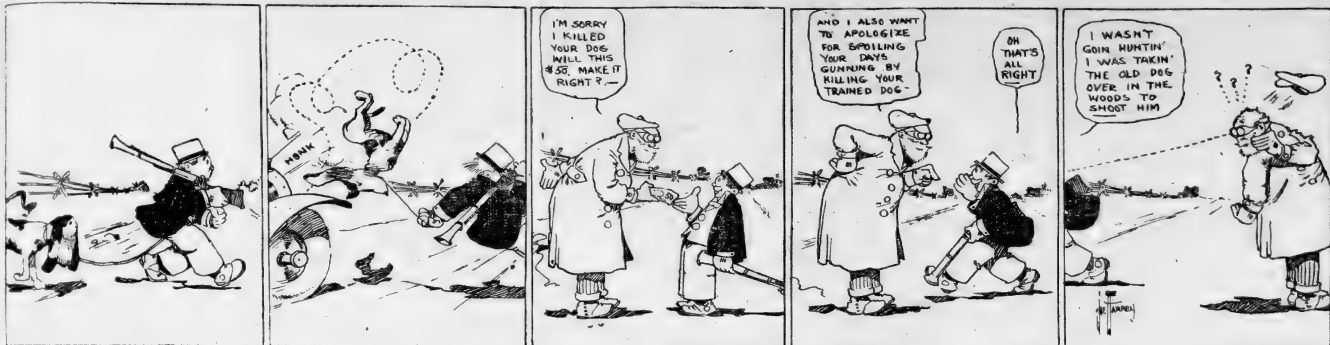

Miss Wooten, the librarian at the Carnegie library, is delighted with her good fortune in securing Miss Brown, and is only fearful that Tan and may put in a rival claim for the gifted young girl.

BOOKS OF PRISON DEPARTMENT AUDITED
An audit recently completed by Alonzo Richardson & Co., census takers, has shown that the state prison department is in a most excellent financial condition. This audit was made at the instance of the commission and covers a period of two years. The report shows the commission balance to a penny, and the affairs of the department are shown to have been carefully and efficiently managed.

The total assets of the department are $214,662.80; total liabilities, $214,662.80. The excess of assets over liabilities is $203,320.88; value of the prison farm property, near Milledgeville, $161,751.11; value of the state reformatory property, also near Milled

SAW CRACKERS WIN

We are yet unable to understand why the Giants and Phillies meet with bats and gloves. What they need is swords and rifles, poison and dynamite.

STILL THERE.

Mack's team, after winning sixteen out of seventeen, loses a double-header to the Yanks. Caldwell, ineffective most of the year, shuts the Athletics out with two hits. The Phillies hammer Marquard, Tamm and Mathewson in a row. Johnson holds the Red Sox to one hit in ten rounds and loses. Then the next day Groom and Engle win in a center. Cleveland wins three out of four from the Athletics and loses five straight to Washington and Boston. Yet there are those who desire to pry into the future of baseball affairs and who insist upon knowing in advance what may happen.

If any one should attempt to pick the world series winner upon the form both clubs have shown for about a month, the only answer would be that neither could help from losing out.

On the other hand, a club that starts sprinting from the barrier and swings into a long lead is likely to have as much speed for the stretch as one that has loafed along through July.

AS FOR ANGLES.

In the way of queer and unkempt angles, here's another for you to dissect: Mathewson is leading the National league in victories and pitching upon his entire season's form the best ball he has shown for a season. He has won 20 games, pitched 200 innings, and his record of victories is by no means the only one he has. He has yielded eight runs within three innings—a slaughter that rarely befalls the lowliest. After each setback he has come forward with the old stuff, showing that he was not arm-tired or any thing. He has in fine shape at all times, and he has been combining these three—round ambuscades into nine-inning game he was assaulted for twenty-four hours—a higher average for nine innings than he generally shows for nine innings. He has pitched 200 innings, and he has given you all these. In this game and the next you are somewhere else.

in the meanwhile Ty Cobb reached the batting crest Saturday night, slipping on by Jackson. Force of habit, in the end, will generally tell the story.

I'm not out of danger yet, but as a rule he generally hits better in September than in June, July or August. Look back through the dope and you will find his heaviest batting has been in April, May and September. In June, July and August the pitching is generally more effective, when the heat thaws out the sinews of the arm and blurs the batting eye, which may account for the answer in part.

HARD LUCK VS. HARD LUCK.
There is quite a difference of opinion as to what constitutes hard luck. According to Connie Mack there is no such thing and with one fell swoop he veils the hide off the alibi.

"I don't consider," says Corbett, "really. It is true enough that I have had eleven men crippled or sick but I have always managed to have nine men on the playing field, haven't I? Then, why the hard luck?"

We've heard most of the others roar like wounded sea lions with only two men hurt. Wonder what they'd say with eleven out of hard-

Here is the lucky fan at the big Atlanta-Mobile game of Tuesday. Come around quick and you can get a ticket to see another good game between the two clubs. All you have to do is identify yourself.

"Kid" Herman Wins

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 2.—Kid Herman, of New Orleans, was awarded the decision over Eddie Coulon, also of New Orleans, at the end of an eight-round bout here tonight. Not more than a dozen clean blows were struck, but Herman's aggressiveness gave him the advantage. The men are bantamweights.

American Yachts Lead Germans a Merry Chase

HEAD, Mass., Sept. 3.—The Americans defeated the Germans even more decisively than yesterday in the second of the international sound yacht series today. The race was repetition of yesterday so far as lack of wind was concerned, and was won by the Ellen, owned by Charles P. Curtis of Boston, with the Clna owned by G. Lowell, second, and the Sprig, owned by John L. Saltonstall, third.

The series was the last German yacht race in the Wiltelsbach X pool first. This Angefa IV fouled the first turning mark and disqualified herself.

Virginia Trap Shooters To Decide State Title

ROANOKE, Va., Sept. 3.—Although the program for the annual shoot of the Virginia State Trap Shooters' association, which opened Monday, covered but two days, the number of entries was so great that at the close of the contest Tuesday afternoon, several teams were not to take their turns at the traps. It is expected that the program will be concluded tomorrow, when the championship of Virginia will be decided.

The $30,000 Battery

WHEN Barney Dreyfus gave $22,500 to the St. Paul Club of the American Association for the release of pitcher Marty J. O'Toole, the Pittsburgh National Leaguers put up a new high mark in baseball finance. To this sum, $7,500 was added and O'Toole's battery partner—William Kelly—was also secured, giving the Pirates the highest-priced battery in the world.
